

PLEASE DO NOT allow cell phone usage on airplanes! Just imagine being stuck in one of those tiny economy seats with someone twittering into their cell phone for HOURS on a long flight! It's bad enough on a bus or a train where you have some chance of getting away from it. On an airplane people are just too close together. Very few people have a sense of good manners these days, and the stress is going to make people ill - that is, if it doesn't provoke outright fights!

Allowing cell phone usage on planes is not necessary. Other than public emergencies, there's no reason to allow it. Please don't inflict such misery on the traveling public when air travel is already uncomfortable!
